

HEALTH CARE MATERIALS MANAGEMENT SOCIETY OF NJ, AND AUXILIO, INC. PRESENT

Managed Print Services — What it Means and What You Should Expect

JUNE 30, 2010 ♦ 5:00 P.M. TO 8 P.M.

About this program: This program is dedicated to uncovering hidden costs and improving process in managed print service for hospitals. By originating sustainable print management methodologies and developing best business practices, AUXILIO's platform helps capture unknown savings in hospital copy, print, fax and scan environments.

Who Should Attend: Directors of Materials Management, Print Services Managers, Supply Chain/Resource Managers, Corporate VP's of Supply Chain Management and Buyers.

About the Speaker: Lisa MacDonald, AUXILIO senior vice president, is a highly experienced operations and healthcare services executive who leads the East Coast portfolio of hospitals and hospital systems for AUXILIO. With 18 years of experience with ServiceMaster Management Services, Ms. MacDonald held leadership positions in its Operations of Integrated Services departments supporting the integration of network deliver systems in the areas of environmental services, food services, engineering, clinical equipment and materials management. Her expertise is in the strategic design, operations and management of healthcare systems and processes that maximize efficiency standards and streamline human resources and supply chain resources. As a professional change management expert, Ms. MacDonald excels at process re-design, training and professional development, customer relations and business management. She earned a business administration degree from Taylor University and holds certifications from the ServiceMaster Graduate Program.
